

Tower Hamlets Partnership and Project Manager

£24,000 - £27,000 pa

Full-time

Based at Limehouse and Tottenham Hale

Part of the Newlon Group, Newlon Fusion is a separate charity which focuses on delivering community regeneration initiatives to residents living in some of the most economically challenged parts of north and east London.

Over the years, we have delivered a wide range of projects, including involvement in the regeneration of the Emirates Stadium, managing a series of community centres and debt and energy efficiency advice.

We now have an exciting opportunity for an enthusiastic and motivated individual who can help raise the profile of our activities in Tower Hamlets, and provide the platform for a range of consistently high quality services for Newlon residents and their communities. You will achieve this by developing links with a diverse range of partners and by providing innovative approaches to tackling a rapidly changing external environment.

You will have experience of working with a wide range of partners, including residents, coupled with the ability to manage and deliver financially sustainable projects. You will also bring an awareness of community centres and ideas as to how these resources can be maximised in uncertain economic times, and an acute understanding of the issues prevalent within inner city areas.

This role will require you to undertake a satisfactory, enhanced level, Criminal Records Bureau (CRB) check.

If you would like an informal discussion about the role, please contact Christopher Newport on 020 7613 8000.

If you're interested in finding out more about this role, please visit our website www.newlonfusion.org.uk or email: info@newlonfusion.org.uk and we can arrange for a recruitment pack to be sent to you.

Closing date: 5pm, Friday 16 September 2011.
